A great lower-intermediate level book for my 4th grader By Eric R Our fourth grade daughter has been playing piano for several years and is pretty good. But she was getting bored playing Bach and Dvorak and all that and we started to see her treating piano practice as a chore. So we made a deal that for the summer months she could drop the old European guys and learn "fun" stuff. We got this book and a Beatles songbook and she is having a great time. The songs in here are right at her level; they are not hard to start with sightreading but they have enough complexity that they keep her hands busy and her concentration. And when they are played hands together they sound full. 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Disappointed By Robin Brownfield Does not contain complete songs. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. This book does not have "The Life I Lead" nor ... By Esther Lopukhin This book does not have "The Life I Lead" nor the overture, and "Feed the Birds" starts off from the chorus. "Let's Go Fly a Kite" is also shortened. Just because I'm a beginner player doesn't mean I don't want to learn how to play the whole song.

(Vocal Selections). All the songs from the family-friendly stage musical from Disney and Cameron Mackintosh: Chim Chim Cher-ee * Feed the Birds * Let's Go Fly a Kite * The Perfect Nanny * A Spoonful of Sugar * Step in Time * Supercalifragilisticexpialidocious * and more. Includes a beautiful 8-page color section of photos from the Broadway production as well as an introduction from George Stiles and Anthony Drewe!
