SAT's here i come By MotherteetHey... we all want our kids to ace those SAT's... and we're tired of nagging them to study/learn more..... and we freak out in the middle of the night wondering..... will my child get in??? I ordered a bunch of these types of books-- they are delightful. And... they make the necessary SAT learning -- FUN. Invest in this fun stuff -- while they prep for their SAT's... Invest in the hard core SAT prep stuff too.... but at least this is fun! 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Four Stars By Nerd

Kind of amusing but also a bit juvenile. I know they are trying to keep things interesting, especially some dry topics. It's a fun read but I can't recommend buying it. Get it from the library.

Remember that time you bumped into Stephen Hawking at the clambake and his monologue on string theory went completely over your head? Man, was that awkward. Or remember the time you were at a party and someone asked, "Who knows how to perform open-heart surgery?" and you were the only one who didn't raise your hand? Well, put all of that embarrassment behind you. Want to dazzle crowds with your wondrous knowledge of Shakespeare and surgeries? Want to learn to woo just like history's greatest minds? Well, start reading already! The Genius Instruction Manual is a foolproof finishing school for polishing your brain. All you've got to do is dive in.

A lot like that professor of yours who peppered his tests with raunchy jokes: it makes learning fun. (Newsweek)A delightfully eccentric and eclectic new magazine. (Washington Post)Part scholarly journal, part Spy magazine protg. (Charlotte Observer)For the discerning intellect, mental_floss cleans out the cobwebs. (Chicago Tribune)The titans of trivia. (Newsweek)An ideal reference to settle arguments or jog your memory. (Calgary Herald)About the AuthorWill Pearson and Mangesh Hattikudur met as first year students at Duke University. Ignoring the lures of law school and investment banking, the pair co-founded mental_floss and have been grinning ever since. Maggie Koerth-Baker is a freelance journalist and a former assistant editor at mental_floss magazine, where she consistently astounded Will and Mangesh with her amazingness.
