Johann Sebastian Bach : Violin Concerto in G minor - A Score for Violin and Piano BWV 1056R (1738) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Violin Concerto in G minor - A Score for Violin and Piano BWV 1056R (1738):

Violin Concerto in G minor, BWV 1056R is a concerto for violin and piano in three movements composed by Johann Sebastian Bach in 1738. This modern, high-quality republication features wide margins and clear note heads, making it perfect for following the music and a worthy addition to collections of classical music. Johann Sebastian Bach (1685-1750) was a German musician and composer during the Baroque period. He based his work on exiting German styles but often adopted and adapted textures, rhythms, and forms from other countries, especially from Italy and France. Although his music was celebrated for its technical mastery, artistic beauty, and intellectual profundity during his lifetime, it was not until the 19th century that he was considered a great composer. Today, he is generally recognised as being one of the most important composers to have ever lived. Classic Music Collection constitutes an extensive library of the most well-known and universally-enjoyed works of classical music ever composed, reproduced from authoritative editions for the enjoyment of musicians and music students the world over.
