A very thoughtful book by a delightful authorBy Digital FingersMr Dewey's thoughts on the nature of life, man, this world, and possibly the next, are presented in a deeply personal but meaningful for readers of any faith and those who are simply contemplative. In plain and modern language, he encourages us to think deeper about relationships between humans as well as our relationship with the world in general. This is a book that I can recommend to all. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five Stars By Ludwig Henry Spend time with this treasure 0 of 1 people found the following review helpful. A Curious Approach By Peter L DeGroot A bit simplistic for me, although one could argue it an exercise in process theology, perhaps without the authors awareness.

Theology at its best lends rhythm and rhyme to the raw energy of life. It improvises on this world without trying to escape to a heaven somewhere else. In this curated collection of radio commentaries and editorials, Art Dewey invites readers to remain open to new meaning as it arises from our encounters with neighbors, strangers, and friends. Through anecdotes and modern parables touched with humor and curiosity, he blends ancient and modern attempts to make sense of who we are and where we're going.

Art Dewey is part theologian, part philosopher and part 'wisdom teacher.' As one of the voices of the Jesus Seminar and Radio station WVXU in Cincinnati, he combines those roles to speak perceptively to his audience always engaged in a quest for meaning. This book captures those messages and makes them available to the world. We are blessed by this gift. --John Shelby Spong, author of Biblical Literalism: A Gentile Heresy Successfully brings together a kaleidoscope of images, social perception, and poetic comment ... Dewey's Wisdom Notes is my 'must have book' for 2016. --Rex A. E. Hunt, editor of Why Weren't We Told? A Handbook on 'progressive' Christianity About the Author Arthur J. Dewey (Th.D., Harvard University) is Professor of Theology at Xavier University in Cincinnati, OH. A regular on PBS's Saturday Morning Edition (WVXU, 91.7 in Cincinnati), he is co-author of The Complete Gospel Parallels (2012) and The Authentic Letters of Paul (2010).
